PIVE MEX BLOWN TO ATOMS. Terrible Results of the Explosion Rix Peands of Falminate.

BRIDGEPORT, CONN., September 17.—At a quarter before 4 o'clock this afternoon an explosion occurred in one of the small buildings in the rear of the factory of the Union Metallic Cartridge Company, and near the shore of Pembroke lake, in this city. These rooms are used for the mixing of fulminates. Five men were at work in the building at the time of the explosion. All were killed, and the building was blown to atoms. The killed are: Wilthur Fichinger, aged forty-five; Captain Philander Clark, aged about sixty; Michael Demisey, Jr., aged twenty-three; James Tobin, aged fifty-seven; and Demis Sullivan, aged fifteen. The remains of two were found near the shattered building. They were stripped entirely of their clothing. The third body was found in a neighboring building crushed into a shapeless mass. The head was blown off, and the remains were driven through the side of the rere driven through the side of the milding. The remnants of the other odies were found scattered about the neighborhood. There were probably less than six pounds of fulminate in the building, which was used for making "exploders," the large caps for exploding dynamite. The building was 30x20 feet, one story high. It is scattered into kindling wood about the grove and for into the lake od about the grove and far into the lake. Another small building, some distance away, was burned down, and all the buildngs in the vicinity suffered in broken windows; in some cases even the sashes were blown out and plaster shaken off. The ex-plosion was heard all over the city, and among the employes in the main part of the cartridge factory it has caused the most in-tense excitement, and cast gloom over the The South Carolina Road.

A SETTLEMENT OF THE CONFLICTING VIEWS OF THE VARIOUS CLASSES OF CREDITORS PROBABLY REACHED AT LAST.

(Special to the Charleston News and Courier.) NEW YORK, September 16 .- A conference was had here to-day between the purchasing committee of the South Carolina railroad and representatives of the holders of a majority of the secured floating debt of the company here and in Charleston. After a free and pleasaut interchange of views the representatives of the floating-debt creditors determined to advise their principals to accept the terms of settlement proposed by the purchasing committee. These are: To pay the principal and interest of the debt secured by secon; mortgage bonds as fol-lows: One third in cash, one third in notes running six, twelve, and eighteen months secured by bonds, and the remaining one third in second mortgage bonds of the new company at 90; the floating debt secured y first mortgage bonds to be paid in full in ash. It is understood that the acceptance of the terms offered is induced by the conviction that the reorganization of the company, the money to be spent on the road, and its terminal facilities, and in new steamships, with the consequent in crease of business, will make the securities now effered to the creditors absolutely good, and such as will ensure them the payment of their claims in full, principal and interest. Besides this the acceptance of the offer will allow the company to be reorganized promptly, so giving every one interested in Charleston's prosperity advantages and prospects which cannot be enjoyed while litigation continues and the road is in the F. W. D. bands of a receiver.

INDIAN RELICS FOUND .- W. M. Reynolds, J. D. Shelor, and others, while digging the grave of Mrs. W. W. Spangler, on the farm of Mr. James Light, near the Pinnacles of Dan, unearthed twenty-four perfect Indian arrow-heads, two small perfect Indian arrow-heads, two small stone cups in good condition, one pipe made in rude Indian style, which had accidentally been split open, several curious by wrought stone utensile together the conditions are the conditions of B. W. RICHARDSON.

The Staunton Vindicator says: Mr.

A. Sproul, accompanied by Rev. William McGilvray, a few days since opened a large Indian mound 30 feet in diameter and 4 feet high near the Rockbridge Baths. They made an opening 2 feet in diameter and cut through a 15-inch layer of bones. From that small space they took nine skulls and a number of other bones, which seem to have been thrown promiscuously together.

DELATED BY LARGE QUANTITY OF FREIGHT. [Norfolk Virginian, Saturday.]—The steamer City of Richmond left Richmond yesterday morning on time, but was some four hours late in reaching this city last night, owing to the large freight she carried and the consequent delay in loading and landing the same at the various stopping places She brought, among other freight, 100 bales of hay to Ferguson's landing, and took on at that place 440 bags of peanuts. She brought 150 barrels of flour to Portsmouth. besides a large quantity of nails, and was compelled to bring extra deck hands from Richmond, and also to leave behind a large quantity of through-freight in that city.

Will bad table-manners vitiate legal grounds of action? A collision recently occurred while an Italian commercial traoccurred while an Italian commercial traveller was eating a bologna sausage on a railway train. The shock of the collision drove a knife so violently against his mouth as to widen it. He brought suit for damages. The defence was that the injuries were caused by the knife; that the knife should never be carried into the mouth; and that the plaintiff having injured himself by reason of his bad habits in eating must take the consequences and pay his own doctor's bill.

Arrangements for the reception, distribution, and accommodation of the clerical delegates of the Episcopal Church, who are to meet in general convention at New York on the 6th of October, are nearly completed. The Convention is to be held in the Church of the Holy Trinity, and many of the noteis in the neighborhood of the church have agreed to furnish accommodations for such clerical deputies as are not provided for by private hospitality at commuted rates. It is expected that the Convention will be in session about three weeks.

The Egyptian obelisk has been successfully moved from the steamer Dessoug, on the ways on Staten Island, to the landing siage on the North river. It will be moved upon a tramway by means of a steam windlass and the use of cannon balls, upon which the stone will rest. As the obelisk advances the tramway in the rear will be carried around in front and placed in position for further operations. This process will be repeated until the Needle arrives at the site fixed for its final resting-place.

Bishop Rain, of Wheeling, W. Va., returned to that city on Thursday from a trip to Europe, and was metfly a large crowd of people, including several Catholic societies and sodalities. He was escorted to the Cathedral, where an address of welcome was delivered by Rev. Mr. Sullivan and responded to by the Bishop, after which the choir sang a "Te Deum."
